The Connecticut Cannabis Convention "ConnCanna" at Earth Convention Center will be an opportunity for cannabis entrepreneurs and the public to learn about the benefits of cannabis and current cannabis business opportunities that are available in the region. There will be panel discussions throughout the event which will focus on education & awareness and will feature doctors, providers, and industry specialists. There will also be separate panels discussions on the business aspects of cannabis and the current political/legal landscape featuring local politicians, lawyers, business owners, and producers. Vendors will consist of doctors and physicians, local dispensaries and producers, ancillary cannabis products, CBD products, and more. The Connecticut Cannabis Convention will be an opportunity for those eager to learn about the medical potential of cannabis and for aspiring cannabis entrepreneurs to learn how they may get involved in the business. ConnCanna is in a prime location to represent New England's emerging Cannabis Market, centrally located between Rhode Island, Massachusetts, and New York.
